

Faculty Review of Open eTextbooks

The California Open Educational Resources Council has designed and implemented a faculty review process of the free and open etextbooks showcased within the California Open Online Library for Education (www.cool4ed.org). Faculty from the California Community Colleges, the California State University, and the University of California were invited to review the selected free and open etextboks using a rubric. Faculty received a stipend for their efforts and funding was provided by the State of California, the William and Flora Hewlett Foundation, and the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation.

Total Points: 24 out of 30

Please provide comments on any aspect of the subject matter of this textbook:

- Both the course platform and the text were excellent. The text will be demanding for students and is extremely extensive in its coverage of topics; indeed, if anything, perhaps overly so @ 940 pages. I would probably need to drop at least two chapters which would be difficult since materials are outstanding. Numerous exercises/problems, cases, summaries, introductory cases. Particularly liked the "ethics" angle of many of the problems & exercises.
- Exploring Business was linked to a course platform. The platform provided extensive supplemental materials.

Overall Comments

If you were to recommend this textbook to colleagues, what merits of the textbook would you highlight?

- Extensive and appropriate coverage of relevant topics. Excellent set of problems, exercises, & cases. One of the best (if not the best) low cost texts I have seen.

What areas of this textbook require improvement in order for it to be used in your courses?

- At 940 pages, it is unlikely that my students could master this in its entirety, and I would need to make thoughtful choices of what to include and what to exclude – a relatively nice problem to have.
